Matification.

What's the matter with a big ratification meeting at the Opera House next Saturday night? It would be a good way to taper off the victory.

—The only thing the Union is certain of is that the Mugs held the opium smokers vote.

ALL SORTS.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.
—A rich strike is reported in the Voltaire.

—Look at the big Republican gains all over the East.
—George Thaxter and Charlie Bicknell have bought out H. S. Mason.

—The Mugwumps traded Stevenson for their county ticket. Mark these men and keep them marked for all time.

—It is now generally conceded that had the Democrats nominated a straight ticket they would have scored more votes.

—If it wasn't for the feet of the Union Editor sticking out from under the snow the location of the Mugwump party would be in doubt.

—Everybody was quiet and good natured yesterday. Had the Mugwumps won, the sidewalk wouldn't have been big enough to hold them.

—People having torches will please leave them at the rooms of the Republican Central Committee as they will be wanted in the torchlight parade.

—It looks as if the people were quite well satisfied with the way the Republican Assessor rates the taxpayers. It looks as if the parties who never paid any taxes make all the row.

—The Torreyson majority of 188 that hit C. N. Harris, must be a gentle hint to him of the estimate placed upon him by the people of Ormsby. Even the Mugwumps scratched him.

—Mr. A. C. Pratt made a gallant fight in Douglas for the County Recordership, and takes his defeat without squealing. He is developing his mine, and has some excellent prospects.

—Trial proves that honesty is the best policy in medicine as well as in other things. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is a genuine preparation, an unequalled blood purifier, decidedly superior to all others.

—Alexander got a big majority here and it was due to the way Bartine got his friends to work. Bartine took a personal pride in giving his Convention antagonist a rousing vote.

—Hundreds of letters from those using Ayer's Hair Vizer attest its value as a restorer of gray hair to its natural color. As a stimulant and tonic, preventing and often curing baldness, its use cannot be too strongly recommended.

—Adams' majority in this county was due to the ungrateful opposition of Major Garrard. Adams made him Warden of the Penitentiary, his Private Secretary and Superintendent of the Mint. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that when ever Garrard talked against him it made him votes.

—A correspondent writes that in a gambling saloon in Moscow the walls and ceiling were covered with paper on which stars were stamped. Among the stars in the ceiling holes were cut, and a man lying on the floor in the room above saw the hands of those playing cards and telegraphed them, by means of wires connected with his shoes, to his confederate.

The above is an old chestnut. Pat Holland introduced it in Pioche years ago.

Lieutenant Governor Laughton.

Lieutenant Governor Laughton has acted the gentleman during the past campaign and is entitled to much credit by the Republican party, and most certainly the next Legislature owes it to the gentleman that the acts of the present Governor in relation to Mr. L. should be overruled and that he receives his salary.—Tribune.

The APPEAL concurs in the above. Mr. Laughton's loss of place and salary was due to the spite of a man who held office for four years and drew his salary without filing a bond. If Governor Adams is allowed to retain his $14,000 drawn during that period, Laughton is certainly entitled to his salary.

Shutting up the "Official Eye."

The friends of Swift are cursing Harris the Mugwump editor. He told the people in his Empire speech that Swift would shut "one official eye" and overlook the license. The way the Empire people regard Harris' talk, is shown by the returns from the "port of entry."

AFTER THE BATTLE.

Meeting of the "Portable Sewer" and "Deddering Idiot."

When the train went down on Tuesday night, Arthur McEwen got off, and about the first man he ran up against was Senator Stewart.

"Hallo! you old 'portable sewer,'" said Stewart cheerily, holding out his hand.

McEwen grasped it heartily, and with a broad grin responded: "You old 'doddering idiot,' I'm devilish glad to see you."

"How's Mrs. McEwen?"

"First rate."

"Give her my best regards. And the baby well?"

"Yes, thank you. How is Mrs. Stewart?"

"Never better."

"Give her my very best wishes."

"Can't you folks stop over Sunday with us? Plenty of room in the 'sham residence,' and we'll make you feel at home."

"Sorry I can't, 'pon my soul I'd like devilish well to do it and so would my wife."

"Bless my soul; there she is, as handsome as ever." And Stewart advancing to the car window sent his long arm up and gave Mrs. McEwen a hearty shake.

Then he reached up and kissed the baby amid the merriment of the people on the platform.

The dialogue was soon renewed, Stewart beginning with:

"Now, you old mud machine, when are you coming up to spend a week? Hang me if you didn't make a lively fight. Was astonished to see so much talent in the Democratic party."

"Democratic? Why you blasted hireling of the corporations, I've been a Republican all my life, and I'm d— glad you mopped the ground with 'em."

Another howl went up from the crowd, and McEwen, after shaking hands with H. M. Yerington in the boariest manner, cracked a few more jokes, and swinging on to the train, both Stewart and Yerington waving their hands and wishing him a pleasant journey over the mountains.

The Acme Axle-Cutter.

Nothing is so annoying to owners of wagons as the wear on axles. Mr. M. W. Woodard now at Benton's Livery Stable has a small portable machine that cuts the axle shorter and puts on a new thread by which all the wear is closed up and the wheel and axle fit as snugly as when first made. Mr. Torreyson who is good authority on such matters pronounces it perfect. Mr. Woodard has his hands full of orders and will remain here another week.

Will Toot With Joy.

The whistle of every locomotive in Nevada will toot with joy if the Republican ticket should be elected.—Virginia Chronicle.
Correct, and at every silver mine in Nevada which the Democratic Administration has not closed, the whistle of the hoisting engine will toot with joy when the Republican ticket is elected.—Hawthorne Bulletin.

THE EASTERN ELECTION.

In the Eastern states the Republicans have been more successful than they anticipated. The latest estimate is that the next House will stand, 171 Democrats, 153 Republicans, and 1 Labor. New York State gives Peckham (Dem.) for Court of Appeals, a majority of about 10,000.

Pennsylvania gives Beaver, Republican candidate for Governor, over 49,000 majority, with three unimportant counties to hear from.

There is no election of Governor by the people in New Hampshire but the Legislature which elects in such cases is Republican.

The latest returns indicate that Ames, Republican candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, is elected by about 9,000 majority.

The estimate of the result in Iowa is 8,500 majority for the Republican State ticket.

Nebraska gives a majority of about 25,000 for the Republicans.

Returns from Illinois come in slowly, but point to the usual Republican majority.

The Democrats make heavy gains in Minnesota, but the returns are meager.

The Legislature of Michigan is conceded to the Republicans, but the State ticket is claimed by both parties.

Colorado is also claimed by both parties.

Kansas is claimed by the Republicans by from 30,000 to 40,000 majority.

The Legislature of Connecticut will be Republican.

The Democrats elect their Governor in New Jersey, while the Legislature is claimed by both parties.

Ohio gives the Republican State ticket a majority estimated at from 18,000 to 20,000.

Texas returns are meager, but indicate the usual Democratic majority. In Missouri, Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, South Carolina and Georgia there was no serious opposition to the Democrats. The Democrats elect both Congressmen in Florida.

In Virginia the returns indicate a gain of four Congressmen for the Republicans. Republican gains are reported in North Carolina, but not enough to defeat the Democrats, who will retain control of the State.

Yesterday's dispatches from Indiana are favorable for the Republicans, they claiming a gain of three Congressmen and the election of their State ticket.

Kentucky goes Democratic, but there is a close contest in several of the Congressional districts, indicating Republican gains.

STORES.

□ The entire Legislative ticket elected by 100 majority.

Elko.

ELKO, Nov. 3.—Two Republican Assemblymen elected beyond doubt, and possibly the third. This county gives a small Republican majority on State ticket.

JOHN S. MAYHAUGH,
Chairman.

Lyon.

DAYTON, Nov. 4.—Returns not all in, but enough is known to say that the Republican Legislative ticket is elected.

J. R. SHAW.

Churchill.

STILLWATER, Nov. 3.—Kaiser (Rep.) elected; Parker, (Rep.) in doubt. Will know tomorrow.

J. W. FERGUSON.

Esmeralda.

HAWTHORNE, Nov. 4.—Wilson (Rep.) elected beyond question, Forbes (Rep.) 55 ahead; Albright (Rep.) 10 behind, with 100 votes to hear from. No question about Forbes, we think, and expect Albright to pull out.

S. A. KNAPP, JR.

Humboldt.

WINNEMUCCA, Nov. 4.—Powell (Rep.) elected and I am five behind third man (Dem.) One small precinct to hear from, may pull through.

G. F. TURRETIN.

Lincoln.

PIOCHE, Nov. 3.—Two hundred and twenty-five votes heard from out of a total of three hundred and seventy. We are sure of one Republican—Clapp—and hope for the other—Fish. Can hear nothing from Nye. Republicans gain here. No more returns to come for some days.

J. POULADE.

A Dead Thing.

The Legislative returns give Stewart 44 votes in joint ballot.
